

From: AOFASinfo <aofasinfo@aofas.org>

Sent: Friday, March 27, 2020 4:43 PM

Subject: Important message from Dr. William C. McGarvey, AOFAS President

March 27, 2020

Dear Program Director,

As an educator myself, I know first-hand the disruption you are facing with resident education. To help bridge this gap, the American Orthopaedic Foot & Ankle Society (AOFAS) has created an online catalog for orthopedic residents that combines meeting recordings, lectures, podcasts and journal articles based on twenty-one foot and ankle curriculum topics. This material is available to all programs at no cost to assist you with providing opportunities for your residents to learn more during this difficult time with COVID-19.

The resident catalog will add modules as completed and is freely available to all orthopedic residents.

In addition, AOFAS is hosting a Free CME OnDemand Weekend which will run from Friday, March 27 through Monday, March 30. The content includes twelve papers that were to be presented live at AOFAS Specialty Day this weekend along with bundled past meeting recordings.

The orthopedic family is united in its focus to educate the next generation of surgeons. If your residents have any questions about accessing the content, please have them contact Education@aofas.org.

On behalf of AOFAS, we hope that you and your residents find this material helpful and informative

Warm regards,

William C. McGarvey, MD

AOFAS President

Questions? Contact the AOFAS Executive Office at 800-235-4855 or +1-847-698-4654 (outside US) or by email at aofasinfo@aofas.org.