

Born in San Antonio March 30,1970, I moved five time before we settled in El Paso when my father was appointed as the Chief of Allergy and Immunology at William Beaumont Army Medical Center.

After finishing high school I would spend 13 years in Houston, graduating from Rice University and Baylor College of Medicine, where I would also complete my residency training. I left Houston to complete my Fellowship in Sport Medicine at Lenox Hill Hospital in New York City, and finally returning to El Paso to join a large private Orthopaedic group in 2002.

Beside my clinical duties, I am a team physician for the University of Texas at El Paso and the El Paso Chihuaua's, the triple A affiliate of the San Diego Padres

I have been acitvely involved in medical leadership, serving as president of the El Paso County Medical and the Texas Orthopaedics. I served on the AAOS board of directors as the Chairman of the Board of Councilors, and currently serve on the Board of the Western Orthopedic Association.

Because of my mentors, I have a strong interest in advocacy, and medical , using relationships developed over time to secure medical services for our patients and our communities.
